

Samantha England-Thielen:

Samantha is a Missouri native, born in 1992. Samantha is a self-taught painter, jewelry maker, and resin artist who lives in the Osage Beach area. Sam has been intrigued by art since she was a kid and found herself drawn even closer to art as she battled anxiety and PTSD. Rather than using pharmaceutical medications to help her cope, Sam began painting and creating art in her own ways.

Samantha has been featured in two art shows, the Art for the Seasons show held in Porto Cima, and a gallery in Jefferson City, MO. Sam has sold 13 paintings locally, and has had her works displayed in one gallery in Versailles, MO. Though Sam dabbles in mostly acrylic, she is constantly expanding her expertise through trying new mediums.
